

WORKING TOGETHER

“For we are God’s fellow workers;
you are God’s field, God’s building.”
I Corinthians 3:9

It’s said that all roads lead to home. We have the blessing of being placed in a central location in the inner city that is easily accessible to all bus routes, major highways, and we are zoned in the Historic Center of the city (Centro Historico). Which only means we pay higher property taxes!

There are 15 Christian Churches surrounding the city but only one in the center of town. Literally all streets and bumpy roads lead to the mission. We have the facilities to hold large gatherings, small groups, youth retreats and church services all at the same time. We’ve held wedding receptions, funerals, church dramas, university dinners and Vacation Bible School. We partner together with other churches in the city for prayer meetings, youth rallies, united church services and bible studies. We have closed our doors on occasion to attend and participate with other churches for special music and preaching.

This year we will host an area church leaders breakfast on May 29. It will be a time of fellowship, good food, hearing from God’s word and a special time of worship. It doesn’t get much better than that. “For we are God’s fellow workers; you are God’s field, God’s building.” There is unity in serving together and for that purpose we are called to work together.

Jose has united a group of Kingdom workers from 8 different churches for the sole purpose to help one another. Preachers, Youth Leaders, Sunday School Teachers, Worship Leaders and even Moms and Dads are all a part of this unique group that Jose has banded together. They meet once a month to enjoy a meal, sing, hear from God’s Word and to listen and pray for one another. This team of workers are there for one another helping to lead with youth events, church camps, VBS, or whatever may be needed. They are there to help lift one another up in prayer and work together.

The best of all they stay focused on keeping the main thing the main thing and that is building up the Kingdom. The photos show just one of the many times they have met at E.M.M. for this special time of fellowship and preparing for their next time of helping one another. Ephesians chapter 4 speaks of the “Unity in the Body of Christ.” The key ingredients to unity can be found in verse 2 of this chapter. “Be completely humble and gentle; be patient, bearing with one another in love.” There is no greater feeling than seeing the work continue through the unity of fellow believers. The mission’s desire is to bring others together as God’s fellow workers, to send out prepared workers into God’s field and to build God’s building, the Church.
